

Lucy Butler is an artist, who has combined her passion for art with her commitment and dedication to community development. As a volunteer, Lucy has led various aid projects in third world countries and has also worked extensively as a mentor to youth in the philanthropic and art and culture sector in Australia.

She was awarded the 2006 ADFAS prize for her artwork while studying at Moss Vale TAFE, and in 2006 Lucy was nominated for Young Australian of the Year, as well as other various awards for her contributions to her local community.

“I have a passion for Community development that is informed and enriched by my artistic practice and passion for life.”

In 2007 Pottinger Associates were proud to support Lucy Butler in recognition of her artistic talents and her commitment to contributing to the wider community by commissioning her to create a large 1.27 x 3m painting (see above) for their boardroom in the AMP building, Sydney.
